Meeting at Nk'Mip Desert Cultural Centre

Discover BC's Aboriginal Cultural Tourism Experience and the fascinating stories of Canada's only desert and the people that inhabit it. The spectacular Nk'Mip (pronounced in-ka-meep) Desert Cultural Centre opened in June 2006 and is the Okanagan's newest family tourism destination.

The state-of-the-art interpretive centre - an architectural marvel sensitively constructed into a hillside - offers visitors the opportunity to share in the rich living culture of the Okanagan people.

The centre is situated between agricultural vineyards and Canada's "pocket desert", providing clues to the distinctive nature of the native people's relationship with their land. The use of local building materials, including rammed earth walls and a green roof, make it a natural extension of the surrounding environment; distant views of lake and mountains complete the scene.

The 9,000-square-foot exhibit centre blends indoor and outdoor galleries with interactive stations and hands-on displays that allow guests to witness live camera feedings of nesting bats, take a peek into a rattlesnake "hotel", dig for artifacts, or settle into a tule mat teepee for storytelling and interpretive shows.

Visitors can step inside the Pit house Theatre for a multi-media performance recreating life in a traditional winter home. The Chaptik Legend Theatre features "Coyote Spirit", and the Inkameep Day School gallery showcases the renowned and insightful works by Nk'Mip children created at the reservation school in the 1930s and 40s. The centre's gift shop and gallery offers unique works by First Nations artists and artisans.

Complementing these attractions is a network of self-guided walking trails through 50 acres of the Sagebrush Desert. Visitors can relax and enjoy the spectacular views of Osoyoos Lake and the surrounding hills from the Chief's Lookout, or explore a reconstructed, traditional Okanagan village complete with two pit houses, a tule mat teepee and sweathouse. Back on the trails, visitors will encounter the rare variety of plants and animals indigenous to the region - one of the most endangered ecosystems in the country.

Most notable among the extraordinary range of native wildlife is the Western Rattlesnake. Signs scattered liberally around the property alert visitors to their presence, but while endemic to the region, the species is at risk. To help protect them, the centre, in partnership with the Canadian Wildlife Service, launched the Rattlesnake Research Project. Visitors are welcome to take part in the award-winning visitors program and may even observe researchers capture, measure and tag the snakes with tiny microchips so that they can be studied - and better protected - in their natural environment. Those with an especially soft spot for the creatures can join the Adopt-a-Rattlesnake Program, where their contributions will help buy and maintain research equipment.

Nk'Mip Chaptik Theatre Meeting Room:

Equipped to accommodate groups of up to 80 people, the spacious Theatre Centre is a great fit for Annual General Meetings, Board Retreats, lecture style forums; or a movie presentation or play. This space is complete with state-of-the-art surround sound speaker stage, movie size picture screen and projector.

Nk'Mip Indoor Gallery Meeting Room:

The Indoor Gallery Meeting Room can accommodate up to 50 people comfortably for wine & cheese, sit down dinner or a simple reception to mingle with those friends, guests, colleagues or special delegates you want to entertain.

Nk'Mip Seasonal Outdoor Gallery:

This outdoor amphitheatre gallery holds up to 200 comfortably. You can sit in the stands to watch an event below in the middle to the open court yard or have dinner laid out for you in a relaxing buffet style. This is the perfect place to hold a large Annual General Meeting luncheon or dinner, family or class reunion, or any entertainment event. Tours and Programs for your special event:

Nk'Mip Desert Cultural Centre offers a multi-faceted experience, and hosts numerous activities for entertaining your special guests. Popular programs include a cultural walk down a 1.5 km trail to the Pit House Village, discussing Okanagan Culture, history, ecology and botany along the way. The centre is renowned for its award-winning Rattlesnake Research project; accordingly, the centre has created "Snakes Alive", a program that educates about the seven snake species that inhabit the South Okanagan, focusing on the endangered Western Rattlesnake. Storytelling, the oral tradition through which aboriginals have passed on their rich history, tells the legends and Chaptik of the Nk'Mip, and allows for a better understanding of how the Okanagan people relate to us. More hands on programs include a Talking Stick making/decorating session and a drum making program, while a traditional foods tasting provides the perfect opportunity to sample a variety of traditional berries, meat, fish, bannock, and prickly pear cactus endemic to the South Okanagan. Vision quests and smudging ceremonies are available for cleansing, and purification of the mind body and spirit, while marriage and blanket ceremonies are available for the unification or reunification of a couple's commitment to each other. Guided tours exhibiting the land sacred to the First nations are also available to Spotted Lake and the Pictographs. For more information and prices please contact us.

According to Chief Clarence Louie, the single most important factor in First Nation self-reliance is economic development. And under his dynamic leadership, the band has done remarkably well in putting their assets to work.

The Nk'Mip Desert Cultural Centre is, in fact, just one part of the larger 200-acre Nk'Mip Destination Resort, the Okanagan's ultimate four-season destination resort. The resort also includes the award-winning Nk'Mip Cellars winery (North America's First Aboriginal Owned and Operated Winery), the four-star Spirit Ridge Vineyard Resort & Spa, Sonora Dunes Golf Course, Mt. Baldy Ski Resort, and a modern lakefront RV park and campground.

Nk'Mip Cellars

The Archer Statue marks the entrance to the first aboriginal owned and operated vineyard and winery in North America. Nk'Mip Cellars is the perfect place to wander and taste test delightful wines. Join us for a tour of the winery and taste of the newest releases from Nk'Mip Cellars. First Nation art is integrated into the building that features outstanding views of the lake, vineyard and valley. Nk'Mip owns and operates some of the oldest vines in the Okanagan, originally planted in 1968. This maturity results in some outstanding wines.
